Below is a summary of your courses and their FAFSA-based aid-eligibility. Federal rules require that only courses that satisfy the requirements for a declared program of study (major, second major, minor, dual degree, honors) count toward the credit load for FAFSA-based financial aid. Courses with a green check mark are degree applicable and included in your financial aid calculation, unless you have already completed the requirements for your primary major/degree. Courses with a "?" have not yet been reviewed and should be updated within 24 hours.
